Background

Gerald Schmiddsberger has worked as a lawyer and partner since 1998. Before gaining his licence to work as a lawyer, he also worked for KPMG.

After studying for his degree in law at Johannes Kepler University (1989-1992) and his doctorate in 1995, he completed a postgraduate degree (European and international commercial law) at the University of St. Gallen (2000-2001).

Gerald Schmiddsberger was awarded the Advancement Award of the Walter Haslinger Private Foundation and the Richard Büche Prize of Allgemeine Sparkasse Oberösterreich.

Expertise

Gerald Schmiddsberger advises domestic and foreign companies on corporate law, in particular also on reorganisation and corporation law. He has substantial experience in the advising of national and cross-border M&A transactions. He also advises on issues of the law of (corporate) succession.

Gerald Schmiddsberger gives talks and regularly publishes articles, in particular on topics relating to company law and is a university lecturer at the Johannes Kepler University in Linz.

In addition to his work as a lawyer, Gerald Schmiddsberger is also a member of several supervisory boards and trustee boards of foundations.
